Kung Hei Fat Choi.

Please incorporate Rick's suggestions, which I think are good ideas. Let me see the 'final' agenda proposals before they are communicated to the regions.

Thanks for your active contributions during the last days here in Richmond and have a Good New Year of the Dragon.

- what about low tar and compensation, even in an abbreviated sense?
- my title is wrong. it should be more like "Worldwide Scientific Affairs direction and programs on smoking and health". how does that sound Roger?
- is the ventilation work only related to creating engineering solutions. I'd much prefer some of the aspects related to WSA responsibilities be included? and have the title reflect that.
- should some Accord testing results be included, particularly in Japan?

Roger,

Changing Rick's presentation title into a more strategic statement is clearly better. You might want to discuss this proposal with him and seek his input for the title. I think the title should encompass the overall roles of WSA including testing protocols.

We appreciate your thoughtfulness in proposing that each of us in the region make a short presentation. We did have some discussion of the issue during a conference call among the three of us.

Talk to you tomorrow,

Mingda

Good start, Mingda.

I agree with all agenda items you propose. I would propose that Rick's title is more carrying strategy rather than admin. E.g. his talk could be on 'integrated scientific strategies to develop consensus on testing protocols[our compliance objective]. Also I would think it appropriate if each scientist in the regions would have at least 5 min to talk about a topic. You could do the Aflatoxin talk and Raymond could do a summary of his Bangkok presentation.

What do you think?

Dear Roger,

After consultation with Kohji and Raymond attached is a draft agenda for the WSA regional briefings we are planning for early March. This draft is meant to provide a starting point for further discussions with all relevant individuals in WSA.

It is highly desirable for us to agree upon a final draft of an agenda as soon as possible so that we can provide it to our regional colleagues we are inviting to the briefing sessions. We need to make these appointments as early as possible considering the number of parties involved in all the sessions.

We would appreciate hearing your thoughts on the proposed agenda.

Best regards,

Mingda
